DALLAS, TX, March 16, 2026 – With spring break around the corner, the North Texas Food Bank (NTFB) is teaming up with Dallas College to support families who may need extra help as children return from break. A public mobile food distribution will take place on Tuesday, March 24, 2026, from 10 a.m. to noon, while supplies last, at the Dallas College West Dallas Center, 3330 N. Hampton Road in Dallas.

Families who attend will receive about 60 pounds of fresh and shelf-stable groceries to help offset the loss of school-provided meals during the break.

“When school cafeterias close for spring break, many parents are left covering additional meals they may not have planned for,” said Trisha Cunningham, President and CEO of the North Texas Food Bank. “Working alongside Dallas College allows us to step in with meaningful support so children can continue to have reliable access to nutritious food.”

The March 24 distribution will operate as a drive-through event. Registration is not required, but participants must arrive in a vehicle. Food will be provided on a first-come, first-served basis.

Each participating family will receive approximately 60 lbs. of nutritious food, including fresh produce.

Dallas College has partnered with the North Texas Food Bank since 2019 and routinely hosts mobile food distributions across its campuses. In addition to monthly drive-through events for students and the surrounding community, the college operates nine on-campus food pantries offering both perishable and non-perishable items, as well as hygiene products, available each Friday beginning at 9 a.m. Please note that Dallas College will be closed for spring break, March 16 – 20.

“At Dallas College, we are committed to busting barriers that stand between our students, families and the opportunities they deserve,” said Dallas College Chancellor Dr. Justin Lonon. “By partnering with the North Texas Food Bank, we’re helping remove the barrier of food insecurity and allowing families to replenish their pantries after the break.”
